DockDogs® Announces World Championship Zone Qualifiers!

Medina, OH – January 8, 2010 - DockDogs® is excited to announce the ZONE QUALIFIERS for the 2010 DockDogs® World Championships!

Zone Qualifiers are specific events where a team can earn an invitation to participate at the 2010 DockDogs® World Championships Zone Championship invitations. Invitations will be awarded in the following disciplines:

- Big Air
- Speed Retrieve
- Extreme Vertical
- Iron Dog

If a team takes home a first place win in Big Air Pro Finals, Speed Retrieve Finals, the Extreme Vertical Top Gun round or Iron Dog rankings for that particular Zone Qualifier event they will automatically be awarded an invitation for that particular discipline(/s). However, if a team has already earned an invitation for that same discipline it will be passed down to the next qualified team (based on results).

There are two other important qualifications in order to attend World's. A team MUST be a 2010 Worldwide member and have attended at least 3 National DockDogs® events in the 2010 season.

In addition to the Zone Qualifiers DockDogs® will be taking the top ranked team (in each discipline) from the ISE Best of the West Series. You do not have to attend all 5 events in order to be considered, but the more you attend the higher your average! To find out where these stops will be, simply visit the DockDogs® website at, www.dockdogs.com.

DockDogs® is eager to announce one more exciting change to the line-up at this year's DockDogs® World Championships, the addition of the Young Handler divisions! For the first time in DockDogs® history we will be taking the top 3 Overall ranked pre-teen (ages 7-10) young handlers and also the top 3 Overall ranked teen (ages 11-15) young handlers within the Big Air division. This year they will compete against each other in a Special jump-off round of competition.
